PROFILE SUMMARY

Mbongeni S. Sithole is an Associate Professor in the Faculty of Community and Health Sciences (University of the Western Cape). A seasoned Social Work educator registered with the South African Council for Social Service Professions (SACSSP), bringing over 15 years of academic and professional experience. He is a self-motivated, vision-driven, and value-oriented individual, holding six post-matric qualifications, including a Doctor of Philosophy (DPhil) and a Master's degree in Social Work. His academic foundation further includes a BA in Social Science, an Honours degree in Psychology, and BTech degrees in both, Labour Relations Management and Human Resource Development. Currently, he is pursuing an LLB degree through the University of South Africa (UNISA) to be concluded in 2026. His academic journey is enriched by specialised short-term training in areas such as Employee Wellness, Strategic Management, Marriage Guidance and Counselling, and the HWSETA Assessor Certificate. He is proficient in diverse research methodologies and advanced analytical tools, including SPSS, Atlas.ti, and NVivo. He has made significant contributions to postgraduate supervision, examination of dissertations and theses, and the peer review of scholarly articles and book chapters. His applied expertise spans key legislative and policy frameworks, particularly those related to the Criminal Justice System, Higher Education, Inclusive Education, and Labour Relations. With applied competencies in facilitation, coordination, monitoring and evaluation, strategic and project management, report writing, and foundational financial accounting, he is also highly skilled in reflective practice, analytical and critical thinking, diversity management, and promoting inclusive, socially responsive education and professional practice.
